

Over the last few years, safety has become more of a focus for all companies for various reasons. More and more companies require a Certificate of Recognition (COR – SECOR=Small Employer COR) to be able to bid on work. When looking at creating or revising the safety requirements of your company, sometimes assistance is needed.

CHROME Safety Services has been in operation since May 2006. It is owned and operated by Christi Ferguson-Huston. Christi has over 15 years of experience in the safety field and is a Canadian Registered Safety Professional (CRSP), a Manufacturing Safety Officer (MSO), a Construction Safety Officer (CSO) and is a member of the Canadian Society of Safety Engineering (CSSE).

CHROME has offered professional and dedicated services for a variety of industries over the last few years. Some of them include steel fabrication, oil and gas, light commercial and industrial construction, gravel hauling and excavation, welding, and an implement dealer.

CHROME is dedicated to creating/maintaining a cost efficient and effective safety program that works for you.

CHROME believes that all employees deserve a safe and healthy work environment.
